

Terms of Use

1. Personal use only. I ask that the images not be reproduced for sale or redistributed in any way (without my permission). My designs are protected by international copyright law. If you want to share the kit with your friends, please just direct them back to my site where they can download their own copy for free.
 2. I am totally okay if you want to use my graphics to create Quick Pages or Tutorials to share for FREE with others, as long as credit is given to No Reimer Reason and a link back to my site is provided.
 3. Feel free to alter these images to fit your scrapbooking needs or style. This includes any recoloring, resizing, or cropping. Please, however, do not take credit for any of my images after altering.
 4. Please give credit to No Reimer Reason or Amber Reimer if you use my graphics or templates to be published in an online gallery, on a website, or other publication. A link back to my site is always appreciated.

I would LOVE to see your layouts if you use anything I have created. It is always so encouraging to see how you put them to use! Send me a link to your gallery and I will be sure to stop by.
